SCHEME BENEFITS FOR EVENT VENUES

The initial goal of the ESSA competency register is to make public some of the key credentials of the event industry's high-risk contractors to help organisers and exhibitors make informed appointment decisions. The initial scope of the project lists contractors involved with electrical work.

The scheme will specifically benefit exhibition and event venues by:

1. Providing an independently run industry-wide contractor control scheme that all venues can refer to or install as fits their individual requirements.
2. Providing an additional visual check tool for venue safety audit teams.
3. Providing venues with a means of acquiring more information about the individuals undertaking high risk work in their halls.

The scheme will more broadly benefit the exhibition and event industry by:

1. Providing a short cut to some of the due diligence checks an organiser or exhibitor has to make when appointing a contractor to do work.
2. Providing a highly-visible check tool for floor managers.
3. Helping contracting organisations to select its sub-contractors
4. Answering the requirements of the local safety authorities with a relevant, industry-led scheme
5. Raising the health & safety agenda in the event community and helping to contribute towards safer practice and fewer accidents
